

Letter from the Vicar

If you sift through the rules of regulations of the Church of England, of which there are many, you will find a reference to principal Holy Days. These are days, where according to Canon B.14 (that is the name for a Church of England law, not a new type of camera) Holy Communion is to be celebrated in every Cathedral and Parish Church in the land. The list of days includes many that you would expect - Christmas Day, Easter Day, and Whit Sunday - and a few more that might not be as well known - The Presentation of Christ at the Temple, and The Annunciation.

All of these days though have a deep place and resonance within the patterns and rhythms of our Church year. For one they mark that link between the calendar of the Bible and calendar we live by day by day: "The Annunciation", which recalls the visit of the Angel Gabriel to the Virgin Mary, falls on 25 March, nine months before Christmas Day and so on. Alongside this many of these days are part of our shared memory. So Candlemas, which falls forty days after Christmas on 2 February, became a 'quarter day' on which farm rents were traditionally collected.

One of these principal Holy Days which hangs in our memory is Ascension Day which this year falls on Thursday 25 May. It is the culmination of our celebration of Eastertide as we remember that moment forty days after Easter when Jesus ascended into heaven. For many of you, this will be a day you remember taking as holidays from school or a day on which particular traditions were continued. For instance, many Parishes would 'Beat the Bounds' on Ascension Day, when the perimeter of the Parish would be walked and the Parish markers would be checked and 'beaten' (hit) with a walking stick.

Sadly the warp and weft of modern life means that the commemoration of Ascension Day has fallen by the wayside, not least because falling forty days after a Sunday, it always falls, inconveniently for many, on a Thursday. Like all the principal feasts there is a deep value in keeping these feasts because they remind us of the breadth and wealth of our faith, and through that God's ongoing concern and presence with us through all the seasons of the year. So this Ascension Day we will be gathering at Beltingham at 6pm with our Bishop, the Rt Rev'd Christine Hardman, to keep this principal feast in the Church's year. We will be continuing our own little Ascension Day tradition (supper at the Old Vicarage for which tickets are available) and bringing to an end our great celebration of the life, death, resurrection, and ascension of Jesus Christ.
